Background

The Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force Program has been protecting American children since 1998.¹ The ICAC program is a national network of 61 coordinated task forces representing more than 3,000 federal, state, local, and tribal law enforcement and prosecutorial agencies. These agencies engage in investigations, forensic examinations, and prosecutions related to technology-facilitated sexual exploitation of children and Internet crimes against children. Additionally, the task forces provide forensic and investigative technical assistance to law enforcement and prosecutors as well as educational information to parents, educators, prosecutors, law enforcement, and others concerned with child victimization.

By helping state, local, and tribal law enforcement agencies develop effective and sustainable responses to online child victimization and child pornography, the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) and the ICAC program have built capacity at the local level to address ICAC-related offenses.

Purpose of the Report

The Providing Resources, Officers, and Technology to Eradicate Cyber Threats to Our Children (PROTECT) Act of 2008 (P.L. 110–401, codified at 42 USC 17601, et seq.), Title I, Section 106 (d) (1), calls for OJJDP to regularly review the ICAC program and to submit its review to the Attorney General on an annual basis.

OJJDP made the first awards to ICAC task forces following the guidance of the PROTECT Act in July 2009. The PROTECT Act defined specific data elements to be included in the annual review that ICAC program data collection had not previously captured. These new data elements were recorded beginning July 1, 2009. This interim report will feature data covering fiscal years (FYs) 2010 and 2011 and is intended to provide a summary of the ICAC program's statistical accomplishments. OJJDP will prepare and submit an FY 2012 ICAC Report to the Attorney General in the first quarter of 2013; it will include a 3-year analysis (FYs 2010 to 2012) of the ICAC program. This analysis will include an examination of statistical accomplishments and trend analysis for the ICAC program as well as a review of individual task force reporting. The data in this interim report come from required monthly data submissions to OJJDP from the state and local ICAC task forces.

Purpose and Accomplishments of the ICAC Program

The ICAC program maintains and expands state and regional ICAC task forces to address technology-facilitated child exploitation. These task forces work collaboratively as a national network of law enforcement and prosecutorial agencies that prevent, interdict, and investigate Internet crimes against children. The program requires existing task forces to develop multijurisdictional, multiagency responses to such offenses by providing funding and other support to state and local law enforcement agencies to help them acquire the necessary knowledge, personnel, and equipment. Program accomplishments include:

- Since 2000, the ICAC task forces have reviewed 324,474 complaints of alleged child sexual victimization, resulting in the arrest of approximately 33,541 individuals.
- Since the ICAC program began in 1998, approximately 280,000 law enforcement officers, prosecutors, and other professionals have been trained throughout the United States.
- In FYs 2010 and 2011, the ICAC program initiated approximately 65,857 investigations and conducted 79,632 forensic examinations, identifying 2,965 real children who were victims of some form of abuse and neglect.
- In FYs 2010 and 2011, the ICAC program made more than 62,906 training contacts with law enforcement personnel and 5,381 training contacts with prosecutors.
- In FYs 2010 and 2011, the ICAC task forces arrested 11,206 individuals.

Table 1 describes the accomplishments reported by the 61 ICAC task forces in FYs 2010 and 2011.

In 2009, OJJDP issued the first continuation funding solicitation for the ICAC task forces as a program following the guidelines in the PROTECT Act. Since that time, the funding solicitations included language from the Act describing the functions and responsibilities of the ICAC task forces and their data reporting responsibilities. Section 103 of the Act states that “ICAC task forces are dedicated to the following”:

- Increasing the capabilities of state and local law enforcement officers in the detection, investigation, and apprehension of Internet crimes against children offenses or offenders, including technology-facilitated child exploitation offenses.
- Conducting proactive and reactive Internet crimes against children investigations.
- Providing training and technical assistance to ICAC task forces and other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies in the areas of investigations, forensics, prosecution, community outreach, and capacity building, using recognized experts to assist in the development and delivery of training programs.
- Increasing the number of Internet crimes against children offenses being investigated and prosecuted in both federal and state courts.
- Creating a multiagency task force response to Internet crimes against children offenses within each state.
- Participating in the Department of Justice's Project Safe Childhood initiative, the purpose of which is to combat technology-facilitated sexual exploitation crimes against children.
- Enhancing nationwide responses to Internet crimes against children, including assisting other ICAC task forces and other federal, state, and local agencies with Internet crimes against children investigations and prosecutions.
- Developing and delivering Internet crimes against children public awareness and prevention programs.

- Participating in such other activities, both proactive and reactive, that will enhance investigations and prosecutions of Internet crimes against children.

Number and Location of ICAC Task Forces

When the PROTECT Act was passed, there were 59 ICAC task forces serving all 50 states and the District of Columbia. OJJDP selected each of these task forces through a series of competitive requests for proposals issued between 1998 and 2007. In 2009, two additional regional ICAC task forces were competitively awarded to serve the New York City and Houston, Texas, metropolitan areas, bringing the total number of task forces to 61. Figure 1 and table 2 show the task force agencies and their locations. In FY 2010, the Minnesota regional ICAC task force was re-competed and awarded to the Minnesota Department of Public Safety. In FY 2011, the Missouri ICAC was re-competed and awarded to the St. Charles County Sheriff's Office.

Affiliate Law Enforcement Agencies and Other Partners

In FYs 2010 and 2011, the ICAC task forces reported more than 3,000 federal, state, local, and tribal law enforcement and prosecutorial agencies as affiliates. Additionally, several ICAC task forces partnered with nongovernmental organizations to support the implementation of ICAC-related activities.

Number of Documented Complaints

In FYs 2010 and 2011, the 76,961 (35,763 in 2010 and 41,198 in 2011) complaints that the 61 ICAC task forces reviewed resulted in 11,206 (5,387 in 2010 and 5,819 in 2011) arrests. Table 3 presents the type and number of complaints the task forces received and reviewed for each fiscal year discussed.

Investigative Technical Assistance Provided by ICAC Task Forces

In FYs 2010 and 2011, ICAC task forces reported providing 54,329 (24,358 in 2010 and 29,971 in 2011) instances of investigative technical support to both affiliate and nonaffiliate agencies in furtherance of an ICAC-related investigation. An instance of technical support is logged when assistance is provided to another task force or agency in furtherance of an ICAC-related case. For the years reported, ICAC task forces reported completion of more than 78,632 (33,055 in 2010 and 45,577 in 2011) forensic exams.

Community Outreach and Education Provided by ICAC Task Forces

In FYs 2010 and 2011, ICAC task forces facilitated over 22,610 presentations reaching over 2.3 million individuals. ICAC outreach efforts include identifying youth-serving stakeholders such as schools and afterschool programs/organizations (e.g., Boys & Girls Clubs of America, Girl Scouts/Boy Scouts, and YMCA/YWCA). Reported activities include presentations for parents, youth, and community members led by ICAC task force representatives; train-the-trainer workshops for school resource officers and youth development workers; and pass-through grants to support implementation of Internet safety and cyber responsibility education efforts. Some ICAC task forces collaborated with local nonprofit organizations (e.g., Nevada Child Seekers, Texas Center for the Missing, Missouri KidsFirst) to deliver prevention and awareness messages to youth and community members, thereby expanding the capacity and reach of the ICAC program.

In addition, ICAC task forces coordinated the dissemination of Internet safety messages and materials at more than 1,800 public events. These activities included displaying Internet safety and cyber responsibility messages on electronic billboards at major/minor league baseball games, NASCAR and other sporting events, movie theater screens, and along major roadways. In addition, materials were distributed at state fairs.

ICAC task forces also continued to build on public-private partnerships with corporate entities located within each service area (e.g., Comcast (Philadelphia, PA/New Jersey ICAC), Build a Bear (St. Louis, MO ICAC)).

These efforts will continue to be coordinated with federal, state, local, and tribal affiliates and other partners.

ICAC Task Force Profiles

Section 106 (d) (1) of the Act calls for each state or local task force receiving ICAC funding to report annually to the Attorney General. Appendix A provides individual task force performance data for FYs 2010 and 2011.
